BROTHERHOOD REORGANIZED

Interesting Events at Trinity M.
E. Church

OFFICERS OF BODY ELECTED

Addresses Were Made by Several Earnest Workers in the Cause of Forwarding the Purpose of the Organization—Increased Membership Expected During the Winter.

The Brotherhood of the Trinity M. E. church held an enjoyable meeting at the church on Thursday evening when a large number of men gathered to participate in the reorganization of the Brotherhood, which is designed to accomplish a great deal of good in its particular field.

Following an informal reception, the ladies of the church served refreshments in the room occupied by H. B. Powell's organized bible class.

Interesting Addresses.

O. Bruce Porter, the retiring president of the Brotherhood, presided. Following the singing of a hymn and an invocation by Dr. Bender, the men paid tribute to the excellent lunch interesting and instructive addresses were made by the president, Dr. Bender, Hon. Thos. H. Murray, H. B. Powell, and others.

Mr. Murray talked for several minutes regarding the New York Christian Advocate and its editors. Having been closely associated for many years with the leaders of the Methodist church his address was replete with interesting information.

Officers Elected.

The nominating committee presented the names of Wm. M. Boyce for president, Leslie Stewart, 1st vice president, Joseph Phillips, secretary and R. D. Hyde, treasurer. These persons were duly elected. Three additional vice presidents will be named at a later date.

Each member of the Brotherhood will have part in the services Sunday evening November 23. This will be a consecration service, with H. J. Flegal in charge.

The men of Trinity church feel that there is great need for an organization possessing high ideals as does the Brotherhood and a rapid growth in membership and usefulness is anticipated.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Afternoon Session of W. H. & F. M. Society Profitable.

The afternoon session of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Huntington Presbyterian in the First Presbyterian church Thursday, was an interesting and profitable event. A beautiful duet was sung by Mrs. E. C. Reeve and Miss Lois Dennings, and Miss Marian Bigler greatly pleased the audience with a delightful solo.

After speeches by Mrs. Barber, and Mrs. C. S. Wilson, of Curwensville, the meeting adjourned, the delegates voting it one of the best gatherings of the kind they ever attended.

A PLEA FOR CHILDREN

Aid Society Appeals for Help for the Poor Little Ones.

Our Governor has set aside Thursday, November 27 as Thanksgiving Day and the Children's Aid society is trying to make the many poor, unfortunate children understand the full meaning of the word Thanksgiving and asks the public to help it.

We are besieged on every hand for help and while we have some very good friends who never forget still we think that the work done by the Children's Aid society is not thoroughly understood by the general public. When we have plenty on our table and a warm bed the business worries of the day sometime cause us to forget that many a poor little child crawls to its bed in the corner without any dinner. Again there are cases where father or mother are taken and the ones left must have help for awhile that the home need not be broken up. And again we have in our care lovely bright children who have been deserted by both father and mother.

This is the work of the Children's Aid society, trying to care for such unfortunate ones and place them in good homes to be educated and grow up good men and women in place of allowing them to live on the streets until they become criminals and then be sent to the House of Correction.

Now, dear reader, if this work appeals to you would you allow your feelings to make you as liberal as possible in your Thanksgiving offering to the Children's Aid Society. Cash or new clothing will be very thankfully received. All contributions to be sent to the home of Mrs. W. I. Swope Second street, corner of Pine.

NO POWER TO CALL

G. O. P. CONVENTION

Republican Committee Deprived of All Authority

Washington Nov. 21

The Republican national committee is without authority to call a convention of the party or to do anything else.

When the body meets here next month to meet the demand for a reorganization convention and other propositions advanced for party rehabilitation, it will be confronted by the information that it has no authorized power of any sort, and if it acts at all must act only upon such authority as it shall assume itself.

The discovery has just been made that in the last convention the bosses who steam rolled the rank and file of the party and stole the nomination for Taft absolutely forgot the customary formality of putting through resolutions continuing the power and control of the national committee.

Heretofore national committees have been authorized by each convention to perform all necessary functions to perpetuate the party organization, including the calling of a convention and determination of the qualifications of delegates. It was under this authority that the national committee in 1912 threw out men who would not take their orders from the bosses.

In the subsequent fight which terminated in the destruction of the Republican party and the organization of the Progressive party, the bosses were so engrossed in the perpetration of their crowning iniquity, the nomination of Taft by delegates occupying stolen seats that they apparently lost sight of everything else.

The national committee is to meet here December 16 and is expected to call a Republican convention to meet early next year. As a preliminary to this gathering, the law committee of the national committee met here two weeks ago and decided that the national committee has authority to call a convention, but no authority to change its basis of representation.

PROF. D. A. HENDERSON, TENOR.

Prof. Henderson is the instructor in science in the Clearfield public school. He has a rich delightful tenor and has made every preparation to sing the tenor parts in "A Tale of Old Japan." A severe cold contracted several weeks ago and which has affected his throat and voice, has made it impossible at the last moment for him to sing solo part, although he will appear in the choruses. Our music loving public will regret this fact as it is a pleasure to listen to Prof. Henderson. A substitute for tenor solos has been engaged in the person of Ray Clewell of Canton, Ohio, an associate of Prof. Strassner and one who comes highly recommended as a pleasing singer of great ability.

The tenor solos are the part of "Sawara," the student painter who gained such skill as to no longer need the tuition of "Tenko," and going far away forgets little "O Kimi San" marries returns and, with the heart broken maiden in his arms sees her pass away on the peacock is lands. KILLED AT MCGEES

Man Supposed to be a Miner Meets Death on Pennsylvania

A man supposed to be a miner named Adams was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad near McGees Wednesday morning. It is believed the man was a resident of Crawfordtown.

Tuesday evening Adams and his wife and family boarded the Bellwood division train in Pottsville, intending to visit at the home of the Adams brother between Mahaffey and McGees. They alighted from the train at McGees and the wife and children started to walk to their destination. Adams remained around the town and is said to have been drinking heavily. He was last seen about ten o'clock, when it is believed he started for the home of his relative following the railroad tracks.

Wednesday morning his mangled body was picked up by a section crew. The remains were taken to the Baldwin undertaker's establishment in Mahaffey where they were prepared for burial.

HUERTA READY TO STEP ASIDE

Wants His Acts Ratified by Congress First.

FEELS PRESSURE OF POWERS

New Congress Convened—Provisional President Reads Message—Seeks to Justify His Course in Dissolving Former House—United States Ignored. Washington Waiting.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—It was regarded here as not impossible that Provisional President Huerta, after having, through ratification of his acts by the new congress, relieved himself from the danger of being called to account for them by some future administration, might be brought to the point of self elimination through the efforts of the foreign powers supporting the United States government.

The new Mexican congress convened and it was not expected that it will encounter much of the obstructionist tactics which characterized the last congress, as the new deputies were known to be in sympathy with his policies. On their meeting General Huerta, it was assumed, would automatically be divested of the self imposed powers which he has enjoyed since the dissolution of the two houses early last month.

Wants His Acts Ratified

One of the first steps the new congress was expected to take was the ratification in entirety of the chief executive acts as dictator. That the two houses would be asked to do this was plainly indicated in the message which he had prepared to read to them. The securing of this ratification of his acts is currently reported to have been one of the reasons why General Huerta so obstinately opposed the pressure brought to bear on him by the United States and other nations to withdraw and efface himself.

Convinced in his own mind that the United States will take no active step to oust him from the presidential chair, General Huerta sent a message to the new congress which Washington asked him to declare illegally elected asking it to give him a political bill of health. The message appeals to the Mexican people to place "national dignity above petty interests of the moment" and not to "diminish in terror and cowardly ambitions."

He defends the dissolution of the legally elected congress, which is now mostly in jail by quoting Napoleon.

"The law is not violated when you save the fatherland. No open comment is made on international relations and President Wilson is ignored. Mr. O'Sullivan, the American charge d'affaires, has received instructions to remain in the City of Mexico for at least a few days. He is said to have been informed that questions of a serious nature regarding Mexico are under consideration at Washington.

General Huerta made it plain in a talk with some friends that he did not believe that the United States would exert any other than moral pressure against him and that would not influence his course in the slightest.

SEWER PIPE WORKS RUN SUCCESSFULLY

125 Men Employed and Product Being Shipped Daily

Work at the Clearfield sewer pipe plant is progressing nicely. The plant has been in operation for five weeks and everything has moved along smoothly, the machinery running in good shape.

There are about 125 men employed at the works and all of them are kept busy as nailers. Fortunately these employees were able to find places in which to live without being put to the necessity for camping out in the woods.

Superintendent C. C. Austin says that the plant ships on an average four or five carloads of the products of the works daily, which is going some for a new plant.

The big kilns have proven satisfactory and not the least trouble has been found since the plant started up. Indications are that the company will be compelled to employ many more men in the near future, as the product is in great demand.

This half million dollar plant is a most important addition to the industries of Clearfield.

OPERATE TO SAVE MERCURY VICTIM

Woman Who Swallowed Poison
May Get Well.

New York, Nov. 21.—For the third time in the past three weeks a daring operation has been performed upon a woman in an effort to save her life after she had taken bichloride of mercury.

Mrs. Agnes Pleasant, twenty-nine years old, who swallowed the bichloride of mercury tablets last Monday in mistake for a headache cure and was admitted to Fordham hospital for treatment, consented to Edetohol's operation. The operation consists of scraping the kidneys.

It was reported that her condition was improved. The final result will not be shown for several days.

The first operation of this kind for the purpose of saving the life of a bichloride of mercury victim was performed on an Italian woman in Bellevue hospital three weeks ago. The operation was completed successfully but the poisoning had progressed to such an extent that the woman died.

The second attempt was made last Thursday in the Smith infirmary, in West New Brighton.

Dr. A. L. Thomas of Staten Island assisted by Dr. T. D. Walker of the house staff, performed Edetohol's operation upon Mrs. Helen Janin of West New Brighton, N. Y. The operation was successful, and at the Smith infirmary it was said that Mrs. Janin has so far recovered from the poisoning and the operation that she probably will be home shortly.

Mrs. Janin swallowed twenty-one grains of bichloride of mercury Nov. 11 last and was admitted to Smith's infirmary the evening of the same day.

ROBBERS MURDER AND BURY VICTIM

S. Lewis Pinkerton Slain Near Philadelphia.

MISSING FOR TWO WEEKS.

After Third Degree Questioning Farm Hands Confess and Lead Officers to Body—Was Paymaster on Big Estate—Friends Searched For Him in Vain, Following Disappearance.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—S. Lewis Pinkerton, a well known huntsman and a tax collector of Delaware county, was found murdered in a strip of lonely woodland, a mile and a half from Darlington station. His head had been beaten in until his features were almost unrecognizable. His arms were cut and bruised, and his body was riddled with shot.

The finding of the body came as a climax to a night's "sweating" of two suspects in the Media jail. These men, Roland S. Pennington and George Marsh, farm hands, were arrested, and District Attorney Hannum and Detective O'Toole of Delaware county subjected them to a rapid fire of questions. They broke down and told all.

The two men, having admitted the crime, further confessed that their motive was robbery. They told the officers where the body could be found. Mr. Pinkerton is said to have had between $300 and $400 with him when he disappeared on Nov. 7.

Prisoners Lead Way to Body.

The detective and district attorney immediately had a motorcar brought to the jail, and they put the prisoners in this. Jumping in after them, Pennington and Marsh told the chauffeur to drive first to Wawa.

"Here's where we got Pinkerton," Pennington is said to have told the district attorney as they reached the station. From Wawa they proceeded to Darlington station.

"We're getting near it now," Pennington explained. As the automobile entered the Longtown woods the men told the chauffeur to stop. They were taken out of the car and, by the light of lanterns, led Hannum and O'Toole to a newly made hole in the ground which was covered with leaves.

"Here's the place," Pennington explained.

Victim Fought For Life.

O'Toole removed a few spadefuls of earth, and after digging down about two feet he saw Pinkerton's body. A bag had been wrapped around the head. It was evident, even in the faint light from the lanterns, that Pinkerton had fought desperately with his assailants. The body was removed to an undertaker's establishment in Media and Pennington and Marsh were taken back to jail.

The arrest of Pennington and Marsh and the disclosures which followed resulted from the persistent efforts of the district attorney and Detective O'Toole. They had suspected Pennington and Marsh for several days, but they announced that they believed Pinkerton had gone to California.

FREIGHT RATE PROBE SUDDENLY STOPPED

Commissioner Marble III and Postponement Ordered.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—The interstate commerce commission's investigation into the rates and practices of the anthracite coal roads was adjourned indefinitely owing to the sudden illness of Commissioner John H. Marble, who has been presiding. Mr. Marble was seized with an attack of acute indigestion and was unable to leave his bed.

Slus H. Smith, attorney for the commission, announced to witnesses that while Mr. Marble expected to be on his feet again in a few days, the investigation would probably not be resumed for two or three weeks. Mr. Marble's presence would be necessary, he said, at the hearing of the 5 per cent advance freight rate case, which begins in Washington on Monday and may be protracted.

The place and date of continuance of the hearing are to be determined next week.

George H. Ross, vice president and secretary of the Susquehanna Coal company, was to have been called upon to complete the evidence of the surprising relation which exists between his company and the Northern Central and the Pennsylvania railroad, according to his testimony given just before adjournment.

Wrote in Bed.

Mark Twain wrote nearly all his later books in bed. So persistent a "luggard" was he that he had a specially contrived bed desk fitted up so that he could write without trouble or exertion while propped luxuriously among his pillows. He used to aver that most of his best thoughts came to him in bed and that the trouble and worry of getting up, shaving and dressing dispersed them all and left him in no mood for commencing his literary labors. He was of opinion that bed was the very best place for the author, and he acted upon his belief.

Wagner Worship.

There is no such worship of genius in America as prevalent abroad. A recently returned tourist, "in Germany, for instance, at the opera the scale of prices varies according to the composer. Wagner, of course, commanding the top prices. But the most popular feature of this musical adoration is that it affects the toilets as well. With the elaborate gowning of a New York audience in mind, I approached a landlady as to the propriety of appearing at the opera in such a makeshift costume as my tourist wardrobe afforded. 'It depends entirely upon the composer you intend to hear,' fraulein, was her astonishing reply. 'For some your present attire would be perfectly proper, but if it is the great Wagner you are to hear'—She broke off, but an expressive shrug of the shoulders told plainer than words that it would be an affront to his ashes to appear in anything but the most stunning and up to date evening gown.'—New York Tribune.

When Thanks Were Given.

Many years ago a noted chief of the tribe of Chippewa Indians while hunting wounded a deer and followed it for miles. The chase was long and very severe, and the Indian was in the last stages of exhaustion from fatigue and lack of food and water when he found himself on the top of a wonderful mountain, at the foot of which nestled a beautiful lake crystal clear. From the surface of the lake, trout leaped, and upon the shore lay the deer he had hunted. Here were food, water, fish, and fuel for cooking.

Raising his hand and facing the setting sun, the exhausted chief exclaimed, "Ish-pem-ing," which in the Chippewa tongue means "heaven" or "the place on high."

The story was remembered, and the name given by the Indian was adopted by the white settlers when the present city of Ishpeming, Mich., was formed. —Ladies' Home Journal.

Inexperienced.

In a boarding house for bachelors Amanda, a typical "mammy," looked after the guests, comfort in true southern style, so well that one of the men thought he would take her away with him in the summer in the capacity of housekeeper. Toward spring he would lead her in the hall one day and said: "Mandy, do you like the country?" Mandy reckoned she did.

"Would you like to go away with me this summer and keep house for me?"

Mandy was sure she would. "Suppose I get a bungalow. Do you think you could take care of it nicely by yourself?"

Mandy nodded and smiled, her eyes. "Deed, no, massa! Reckon you all better get somebody else; I don't know nothin' about takin' care of any animals."—Harper's Magazine.

THE SUMMER WOODS.

Twas Sabbath, and the quivering woods, in wild confusion here and there, Hath gone its way, while I, apart, Have sought this perfect note of prayer:

No rustle here of alien gown:
The silent air, dark and still, with all high;
The softest shadows where they will
To link my dreaming to the sky.

But now, and then some shadowy bird
The noon deep shadows of his breast,
Whose silent wonder asks why I Linger here, long hours of rest.

These are God's columned corridors:
I creep myself, amazed by good—
Mortal power, eternal love,
O soul of mine, eternal need!

BROTHERHOOD REORGANIZED

Interesting Events at Trinity M.
E. Church

OFFICERS OF BODY ELECTED

Addresses Were Made by Several Earnest Workers in the Cause of Forwarding the Purpose of the Organization—Increased Membership Expected During the Winter.

The Brotherhood of the Trinity M. E. church held an enjoyable meeting at the church on Thursday evening when a large number of men gathered to participate in the reorganization of the Brotherhood, which is designed to accomplish a great deal of good in its particular field.

Following an informal reception, the ladies of the church served refreshments in the room occupied by H. B. Powell's organized bible class.

Interesting Addresses.

O. Bruce Porter, the retiring president of the Brotherhood, presided. Following the singing of a hymn and an invocation by Dr. Bender, the men paid tribute to the excellent lunch interesting and instructive addresses were made by the president, Dr. Bender, Hon. Thos. H. Murray, H. B. Powell, and others.

Mr. Murray talked for several minutes regarding the New York Christian Advocate and its editors. Having been closely associated for many years with the leaders of the Methodist church his address was replete with interesting information.

Officers Elected.

The nominating committee presented the names of Wm. M. Boyce for president, Leslie Stewart, 1st vice president, Joseph Phillips, secretary and R. D. Hyde, treasurer. These persons were duly elected. Three additional vice presidents will be named at a later date.

Each member of the Brotherhood will have part in the services Sunday evening November 23. This will be a consecration service, with H. J. Flegal in charge.

The men of Trinity church feel that there is great need for an organization possessing high ideals as does the Brotherhood and a rapid growth in membership and usefulness is anticipated.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Afternoon Session of W. H. & F. M. Society Profitable.

The afternoon session of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Huntington Presbyterian in the First Presbyterian church Thursday, was an interesting and profitable event. There was much enthusiasm manifested by the delegates. Lunch was served to about 70 people and speeches were made by Miss Grace Burkett, of Tyrone and Miss Brunt, of Windber.

A beautiful duet was sung by Mrs. E. C. Reeve and Miss Lois Dennings, and Miss Marian Bigler greatly pleased the audience with a delightful solo.

After speeches by Mrs. Barber, and Mrs. C. S. Wilson, of Curwensville, the meeting adjourned, the delegates voting it one of the best gatherings of the kind they ever attended.

A PLEA FOR CHILDREN

Aid Society Appeals for Help for the Poor Little Ones.

Our Governor has set aside Thursday, November 27 as Thanksgiving Day and the Children's Aid society is trying to make the many poor, unfortunate children understand the full meaning of the word Thanksgiving and asks the public to help it.

We are besieged on every hand for help and while we have some very good friends who never forget still we think that the work done by the Children's Aid society is not thoroughly understood by the general public. When we have plenty on our table and a warm bed the business worries of the day sometime cause us to forget that many a poor little child crawls to its bed in the corner without any dinner. Again there are cases where father or mother are taken and the ones left must have help for awhile that the home need not be broken up. And again we have in our care lovely bright children who have been deserted by both father and mother.

This is the work of the Children's Aid society, trying to care for such unfortunate ones and place them in good homes to be educated and grow up good men and women in place of allowing them to live on the streets until they become criminals and then be sent to the House of Correction.

Now, dear reader, if this work appeals to you won't you allow your feelings to make you as liberal as possible in your Thanksgiving offering to the Children's Aid Society. Cash or new clothing will be very thankfully received. All contributions to be sent to the home of Mrs. W. I. Swope Second street, corner of Pine.

NO POWER TO CALL

G. O. P. CONVENTION

Republican Committee Deprived of All Authority

Washington Nov. 21

The Republican national committee is without authority to call a convention of the party or to do anything else.

When the body meets here next month to meet the demand for a reorganization convention and other propositions advanced for party rehabilitation, it will be confronted by the information that it has no authorized power of any sort, and if it acts at all must act only upon such authority as it shall assume itself.

The discovery has just been made that in the last convention the bosses who steam-rollered the rank and file of the party and stole the nomination for Taft absolutely forgot the customary formality of putting through resolutions continuing the power and control of the national committee.

Heretofore national committees have been authorized by each convention to perform all necessary functions to perpetuate the party organization, including the calling of a convention and determination of the qualifications of delegates. It was under this authority that the national committee in 1912 threw out men who would not take their orders from the bosses.

In the subsequent fight which terminated in the destruction of the Republican party and the organization of the Progressive party, the bosses were so engrossed in the perpetration of their crowning iniquity, the nomination of Taft by delegates occupying stolen seats that they apparently lost sight of everything else.

The national committee is to meet here December 16 and is expected to call a Republican convention to meet early next year. As a preliminary to this gathering, the law committee of the national committee met here two weeks ago and decided that the national committee has authority to call a convention, but no authority to change its basis of representation.

PROF. D. A. HENDERSON, TENOR.

Prof. Henderson is the instructor in science in the Clearfield public school. He has a rich delightful tenor and has made every preparation to sing the tenor parts in "A Tale of Old Japan." A severe cold contracted several weeks ago and which has affected his throat and voice, has made it impossible at the last moment for him to sing solo part, although he will appear in the choruses. Our music loving public will regret this fact as it is a pleasure to listen to Prof. Henderson. A substitute for tenor solos has been engaged in the person of Ray Clewell of Canton, Ohio, an associate of Prof. Strassner and one who comes highly recommended as a pleasing singer of great ability.

The tenor solos are the part of "Sawara," the student painter who gained such skill as to no longer need the tuition of "Tenko," and going far away forgets little "O Kimi San" marries returns and, with the heart broken maiden in his arms sees her pass away on the peacock is lands. KILLED AT MCGEES

A man supposed to be a miner named Adams was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad near McGees Wednesday morning. It is believed the man was a resident of Crawfordtown.

Tuesday evening Adams and his wife and family boarded the Bellwood division train in Punxsunawey intending to visit at the home of the Adams brother between Mahaffey and McGees. They alighted from the train at McGees and the wife and children started to walk to their destination. Adams remained around the town and is said to have been drinking heavily. He was last seen about ten o'clock, when it is believed he started for the home of his relative following the railroad tracks.

Wednesday morning his mangled body was picked up by a section crew. The remains were taken to the Baldwin undertaker's establishment in Mahaffey where they were prepared for burial.

HUERTA READY TO STEP ASIDE

Wants His Acts Ratified by Congress First.

New Congress Convened—Provisional President Reads Message—Seeks to Justify His Course in Dissolving Former House—United States Ignored. Washington Waiting.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—It was regarded here as not impossible that Provisional President Huerta, after having, through ratification of his acts by the new congress, relieved himself from the danger of being called to account for them by some future administration, might be brought to the point of self elimination through the efforts of the foreign powers supporting the United States government.

The new Mexican congress convened and it was not expected that it will encounter much of the obstructionist tactics which characterized the last congress, as the new deputies were known to be in sympathy with his policies. On their meeting General Huerta, it was assumed, would automatically be divested of the self imposed powers which he has enjoyed since the dissolution of the two houses early last month.

Wants His Acts Ratified

One of the first steps the new congress was expected to take was the ratification in entirety of the chief executive acts as dictator. That the two houses would be asked to do this was plainly indicated in the message which he had prepared to read to them. The securing of this ratification of his acts is currently reported to have been one of the reasons why General Huerta so obstinately opposed the pressure brought to bear on him by the United States and other nations to withdraw and efface himself.

Convinced in his own mind that the United States will take no active step to oust him from the presidential chair, General Huerta sent a message to the new congress which Washington asked him to declare illegally elected asking it to give him a political bill of health. The message appeals to the Mexican people to place "national dignity above petty interests of the moment" and not to "diminish in terror and cowardly ambitions."

He defends the dissolution of the legally elected congress, which is now mostly in jail by quoting Napoleon.

"The law is not violated when you save the fatherland. No open comment is made on international relations and President Wilson is ignored. Mr. O'Sullivan, the American charge d'affaires, has received instructions to remain in the City of Mexico for at least a few days. He is said to have been informed that questions of a serious nature regarding Mexico are under consideration at Washington."

General Huerta made it plain in a talk with some friends that he did not believe that the United States would exert any other than moral pressure against him and that would not influence his course in the slightest.

YOUNG WOMAN ON TRIAL.

Charged With Sending Poisoned Pen Letters to Grand-aunt.

New York, Nov. 21.—Having delayed action in the case of Mrs. Edward Barry of Yonkers for several months the federal authorities are preparing for her trial next week on a charge of sending "poisoned pen" letters through the mails.

Mrs. Barry is accused by Mrs. James McLaughlin of Yonkers, her grand aunt. Mrs. Barry formerly lived with Mrs. McLaughlin and it was said that the two quarreled over the young woman's contemplated marriage. Since then there has been bad feeling between them.

Some months ago Mrs. McLaughlin informed the postal authorities that she was receiving annoying letters and packages through the mails.

TELEGRAPHIC TICKS.

Postmaster General Burleson will ask congress for authority to make postoffice money orders payable at any postoffice.

Harry E. Shipley of Baltimore and Thomas Birtwhistle of Providence, departed from England, arrived in Boston.

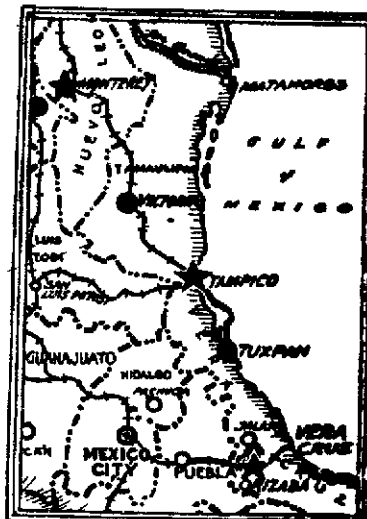

Postmaster General Burleson ordered the 60,000 postoffice stamps to be placed in the hands of everybody to mail Christmas parcels early.

The local branch of the state highway department is hard at work repairing the Snyder or Ogden avenue road and expects to have the same completed in about three weeks.

SEWER PIPE WORKS RUN SUCCESSFULLY

125 Men Employed and Product Being Shipped Daily

Work at the Clearfield sewer pipe plant is progressing nicely. The plant has been in operation for five weeks and everything has moved along smoothly, the machinery running in good shape.

There are about 125 men employed at the works and all of them are kept busy as nailers. Fortunately these employees were able to find places in which to live without being put to the necessity for camping out in the woods.

Superintendent C. C. Austin says that the plant ships on an average four or five carloads of the products of the works daily, which is going some for a new plant.

The big kilns have proven satisfactory and not the least trouble has been found since the plant started up. Indications are that the company will be compelled to employ many more men in the near future, as the product is in great demand.

This half million dollar plant is a most important addition to the industries of Clearfield.

HAVE THIRTY DAYS

Candidates for Important Offices Slow to File Accounts.

Candidates for important county offices are slow to file their expense accounts. Up to this time none of the candidates for judge or sheriff has filed an account and only one candidate for district attorney has made his report.

Under the law candidates have thirty days in which to file their expense accounts, so that they still have until December 1 to comply with the law.

Roads Becoming Bad.

The roads in the country are becoming bad as a result of the long continued wet weather, and farmers and coal haulers find it hard work getting into town.

The ladies of Clearfield are organizing a Bridge club, which will meet every two weeks—place of meeting not yet decided upon. The subscription fee will be 10c and 25c cash meeting. A large membership is desired. The proceeds for the benefit of the hospital.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 21, 1913

COMING EVENTS.

Thanksgiving food sale, old bank building, Nov. 26.
Doll and candy sale, Penn. P. S. room, November 26.
"A Tale of Old Japan" at opera house, November 25.

Good evening! Certainly, you are going to relieve some poor family of the pangs of hunger on Thanksgiving day.

BIG MUSICAL EVENT.

Clearfield people who love good music should not fail to attend the cantata, "A Tale of Old Japan," to be given by the Clearfield Choral society on Tuesday evening next.
This society is composed of a number of Clearfield's most gifted singers and performers, and the rehearsals of the cantata for the past several months have produced a combination of musical artists who are capable of giving a performance equal to any that may be heard in larger cities.

There are many musical oases in Clearfield. These citizens have been generous in their patronage of home talent in the past, and no doubt will greatly encourage the choral society in an encouraging manner next Tuesday evening.
The cantata will prove to be one of the richest musical treats ever offered to the people of Clearfield.

THE ROLLING MILL.

Clearfield citizens who are interested in the development of the town industrial interests learned with great pleasure Thursday that the Newhall rolling mill in Hyde City began active operations on Monday last. At one time the steel plant which the rolling mill company purchased and renovated was one of the leading industries in Clearfield paying out thousands of dollars annually. The new company promises to become a valuable addition to the industrial establishments in this town.
The rolling mill is a permanent institution, the product of which is in constant demand. As time passes the force of men employed will be enlarged and the pay roll will be one of great importance to merchants and business men generally. With the rolling mill, the silk mill and the sawer pipe plant in full operation, and with the railroads preparing to enlarge their operations here, it is not strange that the merchants of Clearfield state that their business was never better than it is at present.

A PLEA FOR CHILDREN

In the glad some Thanksgiving season, the thoughts of those who have been highly favored in their enterprises or who have more of this world's goods than they need should turn to the unfortunate little children who are homeless or who stand in need of the necessities of life. The Thanksgiving feast will prove more pleasurable if those who sit about the banqueting board will have remembered those who are in need of the homeless child into whose life little pleasure comes.
The Clearfield Children's Aid society is prepared to help unfortunate children who are either without homes or who should be taken from homes where they are in danger of contamination from their environment. Citizens who feel that they cannot afford to enjoy their Thanksgiving diner while little children lack food and raiment can get in communication with the society of the Clearfield Children's Aid society, who will gladly dispense such bounty as may be contributed by the good people of the town.

CANNOT AGREE.

It is useless for the discredited leaders and bosses of the Republican party to seek to persuade the members of the Progressive party to unite with the party which is controlled by Bolse Penrose. It is useless for Penrose himself to attempt to stem the tide of opposition to his re-election to the United States senate.
It is useless for the bosses to plead with the rank and file of the Republican party to continue year after year to support the leaders of the organization, only to learn that these leaders have been unfaithful to the principles of the party.

There can never be an amicable adjustment of the differences which have brought about the division of the Republican party. Deceived time and again, millions of voters of the Republican and Democratic parties have deserted the old organizations and are now enlisted under the banner of Progressivism, where they will remain until every demand of the people has been granted. The voters cannot hope to have their wishes respected by the old leaders of the Republican party, and they turn to the Progressive party for the relief which is denied them from the Pen-roses, Barnes and other bosses who have been using the party for their own selfish purposes.

The revolt against Penrose in Pennsylvania cannot be stayed by allegations or insinuations that the new party is not sincere in its professions.
The sentiment in favor of retiring Penrose to private life has been growing for years, and is stronger today than it was last year when the Penrose faction in Pennsylvania the rear in this state. With Penrose and Penrosism eliminated from the political situation in Pennsylvania the people would soon come into their own. So long as Penrose controls the stand-pat faction of the Republican party in this state so long will the people be given cause for revolting against bozism.

A newspaper says the women have broken the egg market. Hope they went into the backyard to do it.

There is some good in every man's heart, although some men hide the good beneath a covering of indifference.

When you want to know what is going on in this town you have to consult the columns of this paper.

When a hunter ventures into the woods these days it is a question whether he will report that he has shot a deer or whether his friends will telephone for an undertaker to meet the party at the railroad station.

The candidate for governor next year will not be nominated by a state convention. The Progressive party will name the nominee at the primaries next May, but Penrose will name the Republican candidate while sitting in his office in Philadelphia.

LOVE AT SEA.

WE are in love's land today.
Where shall we go?
Love, shall we start or stay?

Or sail or row?
There's many a wind and way
And never a May but May.
We are in love's hand today.
Where shall we go?

Our land wind is the breath
Of sorrows kissed to death
And joys that were.
Our ballast is a rose.
Our way lies where we know
And love knows where.
We are in love's hand today.

Our seamen are fledged loves;
Our masts are bills of doves.
Our decks are dead maids' hair;
Our ropes are dead maids' hair;
Our stores are love shafts fair
And manifold.
We are in love's land today.

Where shall we land you, sweet?
On fields of strange men's feet
Or fields near home.
Or where the fire flowers blow,
Or where the flowers of snow
Or flowers of foam?
We are in love's hand today.

Land me, she says, where love
Shows but one shaft, one dove,
One heart, one hand.
A shore like that, my dear,
Lies where no man will steer,
No maiden land.
—Algernon Charles Swinburne.

Antiquity of Nagging.

No, if you are nagged you are not alone in your experience. Nor are the nagged persons of this age the only nagged persons of any age. Nagging is an old custom. They tell us that Adam, Job, Solomon, Aeschylus, Leonidas, Machiavelli and many more distinguished historical personages were victims of nagging. This proves the antiquity but not the wisdom or the respectability of nagging. And if it is as old as it is claimed to be let it crawl away somewhere to die. For come to think of it, nagging is just as hurtful to the nagger as it is to the nagged. So why injure ourselves for the purpose of injuring some one else?
Samson did that, you know, when he pulled down the temple of Gaza and broke his own back. Rather a poor example to follow, eh?—Detroit Free

NEW YORK STOCKS.

No Improvement in Conditions, and Prices at a Standstill.

New York, Nov. 20.
There was no improvement in the trading conditions at the opening. Business continued in a listless character, and price changes were without importance. Amalgamated Copper showed a loss of five-eighths point at the start with sales 69½ and was about the only feature worth noting. A slightly lower level was established in Union Pacific Steel and Canadian Pacific. There was a fair demand for Reading.

Although there was no special pressure in evidence, price movements in the first hour were generally to lower levels, but the declines were on such small transactions as to be regarded without significance. An instance in the trading was the manner in which New Haven acted, falling from 79½ to 78½ on a single sale.
Union Pacific yielded one-half to 149½, and slight losses were sustained in Steel and Canadian Pacific. Room traders had practically nothing, and there was no opportunity for arbitrage trading, leaving the market dependent on the execution of a few commission house orders. It was thought that the pronounced restriction of business was due to a disposition to wait for definite developments in regard to the Mexican situation. Outside of this tendency the tone was fairly steady. Government bonds were unchanged and other bonds irregular.

After showing a dragging tendency for a good part of the late forenoon increased activity around midday developed, with further declines in a number of the leading issues. A moderate demonstration was made against Steel, forcing the price of that stock down to 64½ against 65½ at the close yesterday.

OPERATE TO SAVE MERCURY VICTIM

Woman Who Swallowed Poison
May Get Well.

New York, Nov. 21.—For the third time in the past three weeks a daring operation has been performed upon a woman in an effort to save her life after she had taken bichloride of mercury.

Mrs. Agnes Pleasant, twenty-nine years old, who swallowed the bichloride of mercury tablets last Monday in mistake for a headache cure and was admitted to Fordham hospital for treatment, consented to Edetohol's operation. The operation consists of scraping the kidneys.

It was reported that her condition was improved. The final result will not be shown for several days.

The first operation of this kind for the purpose of saving the life of a bichloride of mercury victim was performed on an Italian woman in Bellevue hospital three weeks ago. The operation was completed successfully but the poisoning had progressed to such an extent that the woman died.

The second attempt was made last Thursday in the Smith infirmary, in West New Brighton.

Dr. A. L. Thomas of Staten Island assisted by Dr. T. D. Walker of the house staff, performed Edetohol's operation upon Mrs. Helen Janin of West New Brighton, N. Y. The operation was successful, and at the Smith infirmary it was said that Mrs. Janin has so far recovered from the poisoning and the operation that she probably will be home shortly.

Mrs. Janin swallowed twenty-one grains of bichloride of mercury Nov. 11 last and was admitted to Smith's infirmary the evening of the same day.

ROBBERS MURDER AND BURY VICTIM

S. Lewis Pinkerton Slain Near Philadelphia.

MISSING FOR TWO WEEKS.

After Third Degree Questioning Farm Hands Confess and Lead Officers to Body—Was Paymaster on Big Estate—Friends Searched For Him in Vain, Following Disappearance.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—S. Lewis Pinkerton, a well known huntsman and a tax collector of Delaware county, was found murdered in a strip of lonely woodland, a mile and a half from Darlington station. His head had been beaten in until his features were almost unrecognizable. His arms were cut and bruised, and his body was riddled with shot.

The finding of the body came as a climax to a night's "sweating" of two suspects in the Media jail. These men, Roland S. Pennington and George Marsh, farm hands, were arrested, and District Attorney Hannum and Detective O'Toole of Delaware county subjected them to a rapid fire of questions. They broke down and told all.

The two men, having admitted the crime, further confessed that their motive was robbery. They told the officers where the body could be found. Mr. Pinkerton is said to have had between $300 and $400 with him when he disappeared on Nov. 7.

Prisoners Lead Way to Body.

The detective and district attorney immediately had a motorcar brought to the jail, and they put the prisoners in this. Jumping in after them, Pennington and Marsh told the chauffeur to drive first to Wawa.

"Here's where we got Pinkerton," Pennington is said to have told the district attorney as they reached the station. From Wawa they proceeded to Darlington station.

"We're getting near it now," Pennington explained. As the automobile entered the Longtown woods the men told the chauffeur to stop. They were taken out of the car and, by the light of lanterns, led Hannum and O'Toole to a newly made hole in the ground which was covered with leaves.

"Here's the place," Pennington explained.

Victim Fought For Life.

O'Toole removed a few spadefuls of earth, and after digging down about two feet he saw Pinkerton's body. A bag had been wrapped around the head, it was evident, even in the faint light from the lanterns, that Pinkerton had fought desperately with his assailants. The body was removed to an undertaker's establishment in Media and Pennington and Marsh were taken back to jail.

The arrest of Pennington and Marsh and the disclosures which followed resulted from the persistent efforts of the district attorney and Detective O'Toole. They had suspected Pennington and Marsh for several days, but they announced that they believed Pinkerton had gone to California.

FREIGHT RATE PROBE SUDDENLY STOPPED

Commissioner Marble III and Postponement Ordered.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—The interstate commerce commission's investigation into the rates and practices of the anthracite coal roads was adjourned indefinitely owing to the sudden illness of Commissioner John H. Marble, who has been presiding. Mr. Marble was seized with an attack of acute indigestion and was unable to leave his bed.

Slus H. Smith, attorney for the commission, announced to witnesses that while Mr. Marble expected to be on his feet again in a few days, the investigation would probably not be resumed for two or three weeks. Mr. Marble's presence would be necessary, he said, at the hearing of the 5 per cent advance freight rate case, which begins in Washington on Monday and may be protracted.

The place and date of continuance of the hearing are to be determined next week.

George H. Ross, vice president and secretary of the Susquehanna Coal company, was to have been called upon to complete the evidence of the surprising relation which exists between his company and the Northern Central and the Pennsylvania railroad, according to his testimony given just before adjournment.

Wrote in Bed.

Mark Twain wrote nearly all his later books in bed. So persistent a "luggard" was he that he had a specially contrived bed desk fitted up so that he could write without trouble or exertion while propped luxuriously among his pillows. He used to aver that most of his best thoughts came to him in bed and that the trouble and worry of getting up, shaving and dressing dispersed them all and left him in no mood for commencing his literary labors. He was of opinion that bed was the very best place for the author, and he acted upon his belief.

Careless.

"Have you made a special study of the subject on which you are going to lecture?"

"No," replied the gifted speaker. "I tried that once, and I got so interested in the subject that I didn't have time to write the lecture."—Washington Star.

Wagner Worships.

There is no such worship of genius in America as prevails abroad. A recently returned tourist, "in Germany, for instance, at the opera the scale of prices varies according to the composer. Wagner, of course, commanding the top prices. But the most popular feature of this musical adoration is that it affects the toilets as well. With the elaborate gowning of a New York audience in mind, I approached a landlady as to the propriety of appearing at the opera in such a makeshift costume as my tourist wardrobe afforded. 'It depends entirely upon the composer you intend to hear,' fraulein, was her astonishing reply. 'For some your present attire would be perfectly proper, but if it is the great Wagner you are to hear'—She broke off, but an expressive shrug of the shoulders told plainer than words that it would be an affront to his ashes to appear in anything but the most stunning and up to date evening gown.'—New York Tribune.

When Thanks Were Given.

Many years ago a noted chief of the tribe of Chippewa Indians while hunting wounded a deer and followed it for miles. The chase was long and very severe, and the Indian was in the last stages of exhaustion from fatigue and lack of food and water when he found himself on the top of a wonderful mountain, at the foot of which nestled a beautiful lake crystal clear. From the surface of the lake, trout leaped, and upon the shore lay the deer he had hunted. Here were food, water, fish, and fuel for cooking.

Raising his hand and facing the setting sun, the exhausted chief exclaimed, "Ish-pem-ing," which in the Chippewa tongue means "heaven" or "the place on high."

The story was remembered, and the name given by the Indian was adopted by the white settlers when the present city of Ishpeming, Mich., was formed. —Ladies' Home Journal.

Inexperienced.

In a boarding house for bachelors Amanda, a typical "mammy," looked after the guests, comfort in true southern style, so well that one of the men thought he would take her away with him in the summer in the capacity of housekeeper. Toward spring he would lead her in the hall one day and said: "Mandy, do you like the country?" Mandy reckoned she did.

"Would you like to go away with me this summer and keep house for me?"

Mandy was sure she would. "Suppose I get a bungalow. Do you think you could take care of it nicely by yourself?"

Mandy smiled and replied, her eyes: "Deed, no, massa! Reckon you all better get somebody else; I don't know nothin' about takin' care of any animals."—Harper's Magazine.

THE SUMMER WOODS.

Twas Sabbath, and the quivering woods, In wild confusion here and there, Hath gone its way, while I, apart, Have sought this perfect note of prayer:

No rustle here of alien gown: The silent and dark-ey'd with soul high: The softest and truest of all: To link my dreaming to the sky.

But now, and then some bird will break The noon deep shadow of his breast, Whose silent wonder asks why I, Inside his song, baffle at rest.

These are God's columned corridors: I creep myself, amazed by good: Eternal power, eternal love, O soul of mine, eternal need!

—Robert Randall.
